Press Pride Prom

Press Pride Prom is a celebration designed to create joyful, affirming memories for LGBTQ+ journalists and allies, many of whom never had the chance to attend prom as their authentic selves. This inaugural benefit will raise funds to support members of our community by allowing us to launch scholarships and further develop our programming. In addition to the party, we will also be honoring outstanding newsrooms and LGBTQ+ journalists with special awards. At a time when our community faces growing challenges, this event offers a space for connection, visibility and pride — while directly investing in those who need it most.

NLGJA: The Association of LGBTQ+ Journalists, Los Angeles

NLGJA: The Association of LGBTQ+ Journalists, Los Angeles is a journalist-led association working within the news media to advance fair and accurate coverage of LGBTQ+ communities and issues. We promote diverse and inclusive workplaces by holding the industry accountable and providing education, professional development and mentoring.
